

I am writing to address your recent email about my husband, Mr. Bennett. My husband has not made any attempt to contact Melvina, and has not in any way violated the court order. He has made no attempt at contact with anyone in her household.

I personally sent an email to Melvina, with a copy of the complaint, and case schedule for case #23-2-11352-7 SEA. His grandmother Carol McKinney printed the same documents and sent them USPS to Melvina.

This allegation made against my husband is completely baseless and unfounded. Melvina is using the system to bully and control us. We have all the facts proving our complaints, and that very allegation Melvina has made against My husband since 2008 was a bald-faced lie.

We have adhered strictly to the stipulations of the protection order, as well as all the court rules, etc, as far as we know. I can confidently assure you that he has never done anything wrong towards his mother as far back as anyone in his 4-generations of living family can recall. -- With a sole exception of calling Melvina a bad name when he was a child (a lesson he learned the first time).

I can personally testify, as can our two children, to the fact that she knowingly lied to the court multiple times in order to obtain this protection order order. She did back in 2008 (we have evidence to support this}.

It is essential to note that I have put in considerable effort researching all the facts and talking to everybody (including Kelly his ex wives, and the mother of his youngest son). For example: Zack talked to Melvina mostly on Facebook from 2010-2018, and has the entirety archived as it is absolute proof Melvina knowingly and intentionally lied under oath about the quality of their relationship in order to mislead the court.

We have substantial proof that Melvina is guilty of several crimes, including R.C.Ws: 9a.40.060, 9a.84.040, 9a.72.020, 9a.72.150 -- as well as abusing the courts, engaging in malicious prosecution and many other tortious acts.

Mrs. Manning is clearly resorting to such desperate measures out of fear that the truth will inevitably come to light. In 2008, she unjustly took away his son by deceiving the court, resulting in the revocation of his probation while he was incarcerated 1500 miles away, impeding his ability to attend the hearing. I urge you to look deeply into the matter, and encourage you to communicate with his brother Joshua Bennett, as well as his grandparents, Steve and Carol McKinney. They will be more than willing to fill in the gaps.

Zack is handling these matters solely through the court system, without the assistance of legal representation, in a valiant effort to represent himself. This experience is causing significant trauma for him. His determination remains unwavering solely due to his unconditional love for his son Timothy and his unwavering commitment to ensuring Timothy knows the truth, rather than the falsehoods Melvina continues to feed him about his father. Timothy deserves to know the truth; his dad is a loving father, and devoted husband.

Melvina has been manipulating and alienating Zack, with no justifiable cause, for over a decade and a half. As a mother myself, I struggle to comprehend how she can perpetrate such acts. I have personally confronted her about her motivations, receiving only the dismissive response that I need to “stay out of it.” Melvina's actions are solely aimed at concealing her guilt. She is driven by her fear of losing Tim once he inevitably discovers her lies, and the real truth regarding his father.

It is our firm belief, supported by professionals in both the medical and legal fields, that individuals like Melvina should be held accountable for the long-lasting damage they cause to innocent children like Timothy. Extensive research over the years has underscored the severe and unacceptable impact inflicted upon children who become victims of narcissistic parental alienation, and the significant mental health issues that all too often develop as a result..
